LONDON'S LATEST FAD THE SANDAL CRAZE

THE GIRL WITH THE SANDALED FEET.

The latest craze in London is the fashion of children running bare-legged with nothing but sandals to protect the feet. In every fashionable quarter of the city this is seen daily. Many objections were raised to the innovation at first, but the custom has steadily grown until now it is a common one. One of the London papers sent a reporter out to interview physicians, shoemakers and such folk, and their opinions were interesting. "Few people seem to be aware what an influence the feet have on the health of people, and of children especially.

"Look at the thing from the sanitary point of view. "Young people are never still, or should not be, if they are healthy; and in this hot weather, and the hotter that will be coming, the feet will be the part of the anatomy most likely to be affected. "Now with sandals the feet are never in a damp state, but are constantly kept dry owing to the action of the atmosphere. "Thus lameness from tenderness and other causes is avoided, to say nothing of rheumatism, for you must know that with the ordinary boot and stocking it is practically impossible for the perspiration issuing from the pores of the skin to evaporate; but, on the contrary, the ankle and foot are kept in a more or less constant state of dampness during action in hot weather, with the result that rheumatism is often contracted, and so badly that even strong embrocations seem powerless to relieve it.

"After all, we have never improved on the Greek and Roman footgear."
